Green Screen

It seems like everyone has at least heard of “Green Screen” production, a quick way to add interesting backgrounds in the studio. Bubba and Dan will guide you through the whole process.

Lighting: We will walk you through the proper way to light your green screen to allow for optimum production value, and other tips.

Studio Switcher: We will demonstrate the quick steps to “Key” your backgrounds in to replace the chroma green screen in our studios.

Editing: We’ll also cover using green screen in post-production, using FCPX.

Sign up at the office during regular business hours.
